HOFFMAN GETS OK OF SENATE AS ERP BOSS

Vote Is Given Unanimous Approval After Selection by Truman.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, April 7—The senate foreign relations committee today approved Paul G. Hoffman to direct the European recovery program today. The action came just four days after enactment of the $5,300,000,000 bill to help western Europe get on its feet. The action was unanimous and by voice vote.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, April 7—The senate foreign relations committee voted 13 to 0 today to approve the nomination of Paul G. Hoffman to administer the multi-billion dollar foreign aid program.

Chairman Vandenberg (R-Mich) told reporters he will ask the senate to confirm Hoffman's nomination right away.

Hoffman, president of the Studebaker Corporation, was named yesterday by President Truman to administer the western European recovery program.

Today, the committee acted, unanimously approved Hoffman before noon, after about an hour and a half.

Returns From Japan

The auto manufacturer, just returned from Japan where he made an industrial survey for the Army, told a news conference last night he had accepted the job because he "may be the opportunity to put [illegible] for peace."

Senator Homer Capehart (R-Ind., industrialist) received the offer of cabinet rank while en route back from Europe.

Senator Vandenberg said reports on the European situation were available to the foreign relations committee at the start of today's session. He recalled that last Jan. 23 that the administration would have to be "prompt and exceptionally able" in its handling.

He said the program would increase inflationary pressures in the country and that in the end it will fail.

Powers Independent

"But," he said, "there is a much greater risk in a do-nothing policy."

Hoffman will be in the position—administrator for economic cooperation—he will have broad powers, completely independent of the state department.

He will administer the European recovery program and will report to congress about other foreign aid programs including the ERP area last week proposed by Mr. Truman.

Hoffman, administrator of the Marshall plan, ambassador whose appointment to the ERP area has been approved by the foreign relations committee, James G. Douglas, ambassador to Great Britain, has been mentioned as a choice for the London post.

RAIL UNIONS REJECT OFFER

Give Carriers 20 Days To Work Out Acceptable Settlement of Dispute.

By The United Press

CLEVELAND, April 7—Three railroad brotherhoods today gave the nation's carriers 20 days to work out an "acceptable" settlement with them or face a nationwide rail tie-up.

After a stormy two-day meeting here, general chairmen of the engineers, firemen and switchmen's unions decided to reject flatly the recommendations of a presidential emergency board awarding them a 15½ cents an hour pay increase.

The unions had asked a 30 per cent wage boost and changes in certain working conditions.

The railroads accepted the board's recommendations when it made its report to the President March 27.

Acting as spokesman for the three brotherhoods, Alvaney Johnson, grand chief engineer of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, said "members of our unions are showing all willingness to avert any interruption of commerce."

Offer To Meet

The brotherhoods termed the proposed increase "not acceptable" but offered to meet with the carriers again and settle their dispute within the next 20 days.

"If an acceptable settlement is not reached in the matter prior to or on April 27, a strike date shall be set as soon thereafter as possible," Johnson said.

In Chicago, a spokesman for the Carriers' Conference Committee said the 15-man panel would meet within two days to consider the union's rejection of the award.

The presidential board's recommended wage increase would be retroactive to Nov. 1 and would put the 225,000 members of the three unions on a pay level with members of the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen and Order of Conductors who accepted the raise then.

Other Issues

Other issues under dispute involve extra pay for night shifts or Sunday and holiday work and adjustment of certain working rules.

If the unions strike it would be the second major rail tie-up in 50 years. Johnson, with A. F. Whitney of the BRT led a two-day carrier strike in May, 1946, which ended only when the president threatened to draft strikers.

The wage deamnds by the brotherhoods were actually presented to the carriers last spring as part of the second-round post-war requests. After negotiations broke down an original strike date of Feb. 1 was set.

Under the railway labor act the board stepped in, making it mandatory for them to let 30 days elapse after the fact-finding group made its report.

Question Teachers In Nurse's Death

By The United Press

JACKSONVILLE, Ill., April 7—Detectives questioned faculty members of a boys' military school here today in the death of the school's pretty resident nurse, whose beaten body was dragged from her flaming dormitory room yesterday.

Firemen investigating smoke pouring from the dormitory window found the nurse's lifeless body, gashed and bruised, wrapped in kerosene-soaked blankets.

Preliminary examination showed she had been raped. Police believed she was beaten to death with a heavy glass ash tray which they found, covered with blood, near the body.

The pretty brunet was identified as Mrs. Ann Lewis, 36-year-old resident nurse at the fashionable Bollees Military School for Boys here for the past six years. She was a niece of former Maryland Senator Radcliff.

LORAIN WOMAN SLAIN IN HOME

Widow Fatally Shot After Return from Bowling; Car Gone.

By The Associated Press

LORAIN, O., April 7—A pretty Lorain widow was slain today in the kitchen of her home, and the slayer apparently stole her automobile to make his escape, detective Vernon Smith reported.

Mrs. Frances Leonard, 40, was found dying in her kitchen shortly after 4 a. m., a revolver bullet in her forehead, Smith said. She died at St. Josephs hospital nearly two hours later without recovering sufficiently to talk, police said.

A 32-year-old Lorain man was held for questioning, Smith said, but denied that he saw Mrs. Leonard last night. Another Lorain man in his thirties, an acquaintance of the woman, also was held for questioning.

Police learned the victim, an employe of the National Tube Co. housing agency here, bowled with her league last night in Lorain and left the bowling alleys alone about midnight.

Her son David, 13, said when he heard the phonograph playing downstairs and saw lights still burning he went downstairs and found the fully clothed body of his mother sprawled on the floor, Smith reported. The boy said he and a playmate staying with him overnight had gone to bed about 10 p. m.

The victim's daughter Phyllis, 8, and an aged and deaf uncle, Clarence Daniels, also were in the house when the body was found. David and the uncle called police.

Detective Smith said a partly eaten bowl of spaghetti and a cup of coffee on a table in the kitchen of the home, located at the city's west edge, indicated Mrs. Leonard was eating a lunch when she was slain. No weapon was found and there was no sign of a struggle, he added.

PREDICT QUICK FINN-SOVIET OK OF TREATY

Agree on Mutual Aid Pact; Finland Claims Concessions Won at Moscow.

By The Associated Press

HELSINKI, FINLAND, April 7—Helsinki political sources today predicted swift ratification of the new Soviet-Finnish mutual aid treaty.

They expressed the opinion parliament might give its approval by the end of next week. The new treaty was signed last night in Moscow.

President Juho K. Paasikivi is expected to put all his personal prestige behind a drive for smooth conclusion of the pact, which most Finns regard as a good deal: They got concessions from the Russians and they kept their political independence.

In Moscow, the Finnish delegates who negotiated the treaty during the last two weeks, prepared for their final official duties and for a round of toasts and speeches at a gala dinner given by Prime Minister Stalin tonight.

Stalin personally proposed the treaty in a letter to Paasikivi on Feb. 22.

A majority of parliament is needed for ratification. There are 200 members, divided as follows: 51 Popular Democrats (Communists and pro-Moscow Social Democrats), 48 Social Democrats, 48 Agrarians, 29 Conservatives, 15 Swedish party and nine Liberals. The first three parties comprise the government bloc.

Russian OK Assured

Russian ratification of the treaty is a foregone conclusion.

The opening clause of the new treaty spells out Finland's territorial independence if either country becomes the object of aggression. It says that if either is attacked by Germany or another state allied with her, Finland will fight. But it specifies that Finnish forces will stay within Finland's territorial boundaries. No other nation was named in the aggression clause.

The treaty also states that Russia can send troops into Finland in case of aggression only by mutual agreement. This phrasing many Finns regarded as a real concession. They pointed out that in pacts Russia signed with Romania or Hungary there is no such provision.

In the treaty Russia also agreed not to interfere in Finland's internal affairs.

Works Both Ways

The military phases of the treaty work both ways. If Finland is attacked and wants help, Russia will step in—but by invitation only. And Russias is assured that Finland will not become a possible base of operations for a country wishing to make war on her.

As is customary in such treaties, there also is a clause providing that neither country will enter into an alliance aimed at the other.

The general belief is that the treaty will exclude the Finns from taking part in the European recovery plan. The pact puts them in the northern bloc, part of Russia's western chain of countries with which she has treaties. It completes a Russian chain of such alliances with neighbors from the Arctic to the Black sea.

Conservatives Win Labor Party Seats

By The Associated Press

LONDON, April 7—Conservatives today claimed more victories, most at the expense of the Labor party, in elections to more than 3,000 seats on municipal councils in England and Wales.

Members of 50 councils were being chosen today, completing the voting which started Saturday.

Reporting almost complete unofficial returns for the first three days of voting, conservatives said they had won 235 and lost 19 seats for a net gain of 296. Labor won 99 and lost 240 seats.

HAROLD E. STASSEN

GENERAL MacARTHUR
In Second Place

Minnesota's former governor, Harold E. Stassen was counting most of Wisconsin's 27 Republican presidential convention delegates in his camp today. As the count of yesterday's balloting progressed Stassen was far out in front of Gen. MacArthur and had Gov. Dewey completely shaded.

Although failing to make an impression on Wisconsin voters Gov. Dewey still remained firmly in the GOP race as he picked up 90 delegates in New York yesterday.

Next week Stassen will face his second major test in Nebraska.

Lewis Asks Court To Rescind Strike Order

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, April 7—John L. Lewis today asked a federal court to set aside an order directing the united mine workers to end the 24-day-old soft coal strike.

Lewis, through attorneys, asked the district court for a hearing Friday on the request.

The UMW chief challenged the validity of the strike emergency provisions of the Taft-Hartley act, under which the court order was issued last Saturday.

"Violation of the miners' right to stop work and freedom from involuntary servitude is explicit in the court's direction that the union shall order the miners to return to their employment," the Lewis motion said.

It added:

"Since the court may not legally commit the union members employed in bituminous coal fields to involuntary servitude, it may not legally effectuate such result through its mandatory offer that defendants accomplish such status for the union's members."

The order by Justice Matthew F. McGuire directed the union to end the strike, and Lewis and mine operators to negotiate settlement of the pension dispute that touched off the walkout March 15.

Prospects of union-operator talks to end the strike apparently had vanished, however.

Before going into court, UMW Attorney Harrison Combs had notified the justice deparment of his intentions.

The union attorneys' action came as Attorney General Clark appeared ready to seek a contempt citation against Lewis and his striking miners.

The necessary papers were drawn, awaiting the signal from Attorney General Clark for a showdown effort to enforce the restraining order issued Saturday night by Justice Matthew F. McGuire.

That directive ordered the union to end its strike, and Lewis and the operators to negotiate a settlement of the pension dispute which touched off the walkout March 15.

A top federal official disclosed that the government also was considering—although no decision was reached up to early today—advising the court that two major operators also had failed to obey the McGuire order.

Half Million Idled By Miners' Strike

By The Associated Press

PITTSBURGH, April 7 — The number of workers idle, due directly or indirectly to the 24-day-old soft coal walkout, passed a half million today.

Heading the list were John L. Lewis' 400,000 soft coal miners, out on a sympathy strike which started yesterday were more than 9,000 eastern Pennsylvania anthracite miners. Both groups are members of the United Mine Workers.

About 80,000 transportation workers, mainly railroaders, were jobless because there was no coal to move. Most of the other idle were steelmakers, scattered over a dozen states.

Bands of roving pickets, riding automobiles, halted operations at non-union strip mines in three states. A half dozen such workings were shut down in central West Virginia. Several strip operators said they would resume work today, using armed guards if necessary. One truck driver said a picket told him there would be a "big day" if operators tried to mine coal.

Other pickets closed two strip mines in Perry county, O., and halted operations at a coal-loading ramp at Cumberland, Ky., where a truck driver was beaten. Several truckloads of coal were stopped by pickets in West Virginia and Ohio.

U. S. Steel Corp. and subsidiaries announced cutbacks in the Pittsburgh district, slashing steel operations in that area to about 50 per cent of normal.

In Pittsburgh, the Duquesne Light Co. said it will ask a dimout of the city by the middle of next week if the strike run through Sunday.

BRITISH GET SOVIET BLAME FOR CRASH

By The Associated Press

BERLIN, April 7—The Russians threw the blame for Monday's Soviet-British plane crash on the British today. British officials said the Russian story was "palpably untrue."

A Russian investigating commission charged the crash, in which 15 died, was caused by British violation of allied regulations. The commission said it occurred over a Russian airport in Berlin and that the British pilot failed to comply with four-power allied control council regulations by flying over the Soviet traffic zone.

British officials issued no direct comment on the commission's report. They did deny a Moscow radio report which said the air collision was caused by a British airliner coming down out of a cloud and colliding with a Soviet fighter.

The radio version was substantially the same as the commission's report.

A representative of British European Airways, operators of the transport, denied the crash occurred over a Soviet airport.

GEN. M'ARTHUR RUNS SECOND; DEWEY TRAILS

Former Minnesota Governor Reaches for 20 of State's 27 Delegates.

By The Associated Press

MILWAUKEE, April 7—Minnesota's Harold E. Stassen blacked out Gov. Thomas E. Dewey and nudged Gen. MacArthur aside today as he reached for 20 of Wisconsin's 27 GOP presidential nominating votes.

The second day count on yesterday's primary showed Stassen's seven candidates running ahead of an equal number of supporters of MacArthur in statewide races to pick seven at-large delegates.

In contests to select the other 20 delegates—two from each congressional district—Stassen's men had won six places and led in seven others for a total of 13.

MacArthur's men led in the remaining seven district contests.

Two MacArthur candidates—former Gov. Philip LaFollette and Secretary of State Fred Zimmerman—were bidding for places among the seven at-large delegates.

A surge of late-counted Milwaukee votes sent LaFollette's total up to 151,007 and Zimmerman's to 151,024 in 2,477 of the state's 3,138 precincts.

In Striking Distance

This put them within striking distance of the two low men on Stassen's at-large slate. They were Loyal Eddy, Wauwatosa young Republican, who had 155,377 votes and George Greeley, Oshkosh business man, with 151,440 votes.

The Stassen slate leaders continued to run substantially ahead, however.

In the 2,477 precincts, Walter J. Kohler Jr., son of a former governor, had 172,028 votes and Senator Joseph McCarthy 167,716.

They were followed by State Senator Arthur Lenroot with 159,404 votes, State Senator Melvin J. Olson with 159,353 and Wilbur N. Renk, seed corn grower, with 157,186.

Gov. Thomas E. Dewey of New York was blocked out with little chance to get even one delegate.

Cuts Stassen Lead

As late Milwaukee returns came in MacArthur began cutting into the lead Stassen had maintained throughout a night of counting. But Stassen had at his finger tips a victory that not only would plummet Dewey's stock but would let some of the air out of the MacArthur boom.

Stassen-pledged candidates had won six delegates contests and were on the verge of winning two more and led on incomplete, unofficial returns in 12 others.

MacArthur's men looked like winners in two contests, led in five others. They had a chance of breaking into some others—particularly in the field of seven at-large delegates.

In this field, the top Stassen delegate had 149,806 votes from 2,261 of the state's 3,138 precincts.

The low man of his seven delegates had 135,414.

MacArthur's top man had 128,543, his low man 109,857.

Dewey was completely out of this race, with a top man total of 81,886 and a low man count of 78,137.

Closest Contest

Closest contests for the 20 district delegates—two picked in each congressional area—centered in Milwaukee's Fourth and Fifth districts. There MacArthur's pre-election strength had been touted.

In the Fourth, MacArthur's two entrants led with 10,304 and 8,811 votes from 169 of the 230 precincts. Stassen's men were behind them with 8,704 and 8,218 votes.

In the Fifth, the two Stassen entrants topped the list with votes of 4,978 and 4,856 from 44 of the 304 precincts. Harlan W. Kelley, MacArthur delegate, was third with 4,545, and Bernhard Gettleman, a Dewey delegate, was fourth with 4,520.

Stassen won two delegates in the Third congressional district race. There, with 290 of the 371 precincts reported, his men got 10,135 and 15,883. MacArthur's men had 10,307 and 10,291. The area, largely farming, borders on Minnesota and Iowa.

In the first district bordering on Illinois and including industrial as well as farming areas, Stassen's pair of candidates had a commanding lead with 125 of the 227 precincts reported. Their vote was 9,364 and 8,599. MacArthur's vote was 6,772 and 4,403.

The Second district, in the same area, [illegible] gave Stassen two [illegible] delegates. The count there from 223 of the district's 276 was 20,696 and 20,402 for the Stassen brothers. Mac-

Estimated 15,000 Jam Center Street To Watch Colorful Army Day Parade Go By

By SCOTT McMURRAY

Police were hard pressed to keep clear the line of march as a crowd unofficially estimated at upwards of 15,000 people jammed Center street to see the Army day parade last night.

Every policeman on all three shifts of the city force was called to duty and as cruisers and motorcycles cleared the way the big parade got under way with military precision at the stroke of 8.

Illuminated by giant aerial searchlights, the parade, led by Col. Hubert L. Taylor, with Lt. Jean Imbody, Army Nurse Corps as his deputy, moved smartly along the line of march and many a veteran watching felt a glow of reminiscence as the parade commander, his deputy, and section commanders executed a snappy eyes right and hand salute as they passed the reviewing stand at Center and Main where the reviewing party stood at right attention as Col. H. L. Robb, commander of the Marion Engineer Depot, and his executive staff returned the smart salutes of the marchers. Honored civilians standing with bared heads in the reviewing stand included Mayor Harry L. Dowler, President Robert Mason of the Chamber of Commerce, Police Chief William E. Marks, and Fire Chief Owen A. Sifritt.

Four Bands March

The stirring blare of martial music resounded through the streets as the four bands in the parade vied for the approval of the crowd. Occupying the [illegible] Stars' place of honor was the crack V.F.W. band from Bucyrus, their olive drab [illegible] uniforms making a pleasing contrast with the white and gold of the majorettes and just ahead of the Harding high band which followed them. The construction costs of the facilities in the Cleveland area totaled $55,300,000.

Total investment throughout the country in 2,038 new plants costing $100,000 or more each was listed at $1,586,500,000 in the two and one-half year period from May, 1945, through last October. Of this, Texas had $230,800,000 and California, $141,400,000.

Iron and Steel Plants

Houston, Tex., led all other industrial areas with 56 new plants valued at $60,239,000.

Other Ohio cities, listed in order of the value of contracts for new plants in leading industrial areas include: Toledo, ranked 12th nationally, with 19 new plants worth $21,712,000; Cincinnati, 25th, seven plants worth $5,292,000; Youngstown, 27th, 13 plants, $3,629,000; Dayton, 29th, eight plants, $3,005,000; Akron, 32nd, four plants, $1,261,000.

Iron and steel plants accounted for $41,600,00 of the Ohio total. Other leading industries were: automobiles and equipment, $19,300,000; chemicals, $15,700,000; machinery, $13,000,000; petroleum and coal, $10,300,000; elecurical machinery, $7,800,000; food, $4,700,000, and rubber, $4,200,000.

Development Reflected

The study said that the amount of expansion reflects the rapid industrial development in the country in spite of mounting construction costs and the shortage of labor and materials.

It added that industrialists showed a preference for cities of under 50,000 population. However, 53.9 per cent of the 2,038 plants were located nationally in key industrial areas.

Sixty of the total of 157 new plants in Ohio were located in cities of less than 50,000 population, five in cities of 50,000 to 100,000, 43 in cities between 100,000 and 500,000, and 49 in cities of more than 500,000.

The survey did not list the number of value of plants in each of the smaller cities.

Your Good Health

By DR. HERMAN N. BUNDESEN

Does Your Work Hurt Your Skin?

The industrial worker takes it on the skin.

There is hardly any occupation which does not present some type of hazard to the skin. Bakers, maintenance men, chemical workers, dishwashers, gardeners, machinists, and photographers are but a few of those in whose occupations the danger of deramitis or inflammation of the skin exists.

Acids, dusts, paints, dyes, petroleum products, rubber compounds and metals, all may irritate the skin. In fact, it has been estimated that some ten to twelve out of every hundred patients with skin diseases develop them as a result of the type of work they are doing, and that about 50,000 cases of industrial dermatitis occur each year in the United States.

Better understanding of this problem and more care on the part of both workers and employers could do much to reduce this large annual toll of disability which is reflected on the economic side in thousands of dollars lost in wages and thousands more paid out for compensation and medical care.

Fair-skinned people need to take especial care when working with irritating substances, since they seem to be more sensitive than darker persons.

Sweating, also, is a factor. The more one perspires, the more dirt is held in the sweat, and the more the worker is likely to rub his face with his hands. This causes double irritation. The friction itself may cause damage and, at the same time, harmful substances are rubbed into the skin.

Carelessness in handling irritating substances may also be responsible for the development of a dermatitis.

It would appear that there are two different types of skin irritants. One type directly produces skin inflammation. In this group are such things as strong acids, alkalis, and petroleum products. These irritants are harmful to everyone.

The second group of irritants is called sensitizers, and includes such things as dyes, lacquers and resins. In ordinary amounts, these substances are harmless. However, through repeated exposure to them, the person develops an allergy or sensitivity. Therefore, any contact with the substance may lead to the development of a skin rash.

As a general rule, it is not difficult to make a diagnosis of an industrial dermatitis. Close questioning of the patient in regard to the substances in which he comes in contact gives much useful information.

Patch testing, which is done by placing suspected substances in contact with the skin and holding them in position with adhesive tape for 24 hours, is useful in determining just what substance is causing the trouble. An area of inflammation will develop after 24 hours where the harmful substance is in contact with the skin.

There are a number of things which can be done to prevent dermatitis. Cleanliness is of great importance. Gloves, or protective creams which the doctor will prescribe also have much value. Protective clothing, too, such as overalls, is useful.

If a person becomes sensitized, it may become necessary for him to change his occupation.

Roving Reports

By Hal Boyle

NEW YORK

SID CAESAR is a young comedian who discovered that nonsense sounds make sound financial sense. One of the first true comedians of the machine age, Sid has parlayed his talents from a $17 a week job as a theater doorman to star billing in the musical show, 'Make Mine Manhattan."

He can do 'doubletalk" in any language and imitate any of the noises and machines that complicate modern life—from a subway turnstile to a hand grenade.

Hal Boyle

'Right now I'm working up a skit in which I play the life of a white-walled tire," he said.

In his present Broadway job—his first break in big time here—he is so busy he meets himself coming on and off the stage.

"I'm in nine scenes, have 22 changes in costume, play 23 characters and have to do 15 vocal sound effects,' he said the other day at Lindy's, a place where people go to eat breakfast for lunch.

"On matinees I have 44 costume changes, and get all worn out just putting on clothes and taking them off."

Caesar is a tall, good looking guy from Yonkers who used to dream of becoming a great musician. He worked as a doorman here for several months before getting a berth with a jazz band. He blew a saxophone—which may explain his insight into the production of odd noises.

DURING THE WAR he served in the Coast Guard. His burlesque of airplane movies in the Coast Guard show "Stars and Spars" won him a Hollywood contract.

Sid liked the film colony money, but couldn't stand the inactivity between film assignments.

"What a life," he said. "They were paying me more in a week than I had been getting in a year with the Coast Guard. But what did I do? Play a game of tennis, then jump in the pool. Play a round of golf, then jump in the pool. Take a ride in my car—and back into the pool again. It was driving me nuts."

Between his stage duties now Sid manages to take daily gym workouts and also is taking voice and singing lessons.

THE VOCAL LESSONS are designed to avoid the danger of losing his voice under the rasping chores he gives it. Among the fifteen things he imitates each day are hunting hounds, a bugle, a rifle bullet, a dial telephone, a horse, a police siren and the sound of axes chopping up a slot machine.

Sid likes to point a machine age moral with his machine age skits. His most popular number tells the story of a penny gum machine which decides honesty doesn't pay because the customers always slap it around. It becomes a cynical quarter slot machine in a gambling joint, but eventually is hacked to pieces by police raiders.

"I think this skit tells the life of many an East Side kid who went wrong because somebody began pushing him around," said Sid.

He avoids "blue comedy" the off-color gags popular in some night clubs. He and Max Liebman, his writing collaborator, spend from three to four months writing and developing a single skit.

He dropped one number, contrasting the British and Russians, because people began to look for political implications.

"Humor is really like music—it has no boundaries," he said. "But when people are under tension, you can't kid them. Instead of laughing at a burlesque they start asking, 'is he a Fascist or is he a Communist?' Then it isn't funny. And that's bad—because people should always be able to laugh at themselves."

OHIO FARM PAY UP LAST MONTH

General Level of Farm Prices Reported Higher Than Previous Month.

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., April 7—Ohio farmers were paid a little more for their work in the month ended March 15.

The federal-state crop reporting service said yesterday the general level of farm prices was a little higher than the previous month and "somewhat higher than a year earlier."

All grains rose except rye, which showed no change. Wheat was up eight cents in the month, oats, 19, corn 24, and soybeans 34. Beef cattle rose $2.60 a hundred, sheep were unchanged, while hogs were down ten cents a hundred, veal 20 cents, and lambs 40 cents.

Milk cows cost more than a month earlier, but butterfat and wholesale milk were down. Chickens were higher but eggs lower. Wool, apples, and hay dropped, but potatoes were up ten cents a bushel.

"Compared with March 15, 1947," the service said, "the decline in wheat, barley, rye, and soybeans slightly more than offset the increase in corn, oats and buckwheat. Beef cattle, veal calf, and sheep prices average slightly higher, hog and lamb prices were lower.

Milk cows, chickens, eggs butterfat, wholesale milk, potatoes, and hay all registered increases while apples declined from a year earlier."

Another state agency for farmers, the farm-labor advisory committee of the bureau of unemployment compensation, urged legislation for other steps to reduce the expenses of farmer-employers bringing Mexican or British West Indian farm workers into this country during 'peak production seasons."

ADVANCED TO CAPTAIN

A Marion service man, Lt. Robert M. Wills, has been advanced to the rank of captain in the Army Air Force, word received by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Wills of 922 Merkle avenue, states. Captain Wills is stationed with the Force in Washington, D. C. with Mrs. Wills and their makes his home in that city.

Who Are the Pickets?

NEWSPAPER readers have been wondering who the bully-boys were whose pictures appeared in connection with the picketing of the New York Stock Exchange. It was obvious they weren't employes of the Exchange; they weren't the type.

The New York Sun investigated. It found that most of them were from the Seafarers International Union and the Sailors Union of the Pacific. During its investigation it found that pickets in front of a shoe company's stores had no connection with shoe business, that pickets in front of a candy company were unemployed elevator operators ordered to carry placards on the threat of losing their union cards and that the Communist party in New York City always will produce pickets if other sources fail. The pickets themselves have no interest; they're ordered to show up to make whatever trouble they can.

Picketing, as a moral force, is a right delegated by society to labor unions which have enough integrity to use it honorably. A few more instances of sailors blocking the entrances to the New York Stock Exchange will dispel whatever illusions may remain about picketing not having been taken over lock, stock and barrel by individuals and organizations with no more notion of integrity than jackals.

Economic War

THE question raised by the European recovery program, with its drain on United States recources, and by the additional drain of a stepped-up preparedness program is whether or not economic stability can be achieved.

Aside from the looming possibility of shooting war there is the present reality of economic war—or "cold war" as some call it. The United States has pitted its economic strength against the political strength of the Soviet Union. It hopes to wear down its antagonist by helping European nations rehabilitate themselves. But the Soviet Union hopes to wear down the United States by making it exhaust itself in this economic project. Premier Stalin is on record with the prediction that the United States will undergo another of its periodic economic collapses.

The economy of the United States is sensitive to sudden change. It gears itself automatically to the latest tempo and tends to make the abnormal become the normal. If the prospect of economic war plus a stepped-up preparedness program should be permitted to complicate postwar recovery in the United States with further inflation, only the Kremlin would have anything to gain.

The problem is to appraise what needs to be done, to do it with as little disturbance as possible and to maintain economic stability. It would be a heavier blow to American hopes of success in economic war to sustain a defeat at home than to lose a few skirmishes abroad.

A Chance To Buy Ill-Will

IN AN effort to attract American tourists, Britain has made concessions for visitors. These include voucher books permitting purchases up to $100 worth of rationed clothing and enough gasoline for 1,000 miles of driving.

Before Americans take advantage of these concessions, however, they should reflect a bit. There's a question as to whether a tourist could enjoy himself taking advantage of privileges denied the people in whose land he's a guest. American esteem abroad has suffered frequently because of ill-considered conduct on the part of travelers.

Buying clothing in Britain stores while Britons stand by and ruefully count their ration points, traveling blithely over roads denied to Britons for pleasure driving—such activity would do American prestige no good. The British government's purpose is plain; it wants dollars. But if visiting Americans comport themselves as a class apart, they'll be buying a batch of ill-will.

An Evanescent Idea

MRS. RAY W. DAVIS of Circleville is going to submit a resolution to the Ohio Federation of Women's clubs at its general assembly this month asking that the state's flower be changed from the scarlet carnation to the spring beauty. Why?

Because, she says, the red carnation is not a wild but a cultivated flower. It does not grow naturally in Ohio and furthermore is a commercial flower. The spring beauty, she says, grows all over the state and has an "evanescent beauty." Mrs. Davis should have skipped that part: it's the weakest place in her argument. Evanescent means fleeting. The only way to enjoy a spring beauty is to put on a pair of boots and a raincoat and go look at one in the springtime. They wilt as soon as they're picked—and they're not worth picking.

A carnation, on the other hand, is obtainable any time of the year. It lasts. It makes a handsome appearance. It has been the state's flower for 44 years, chosen in honor of William McKinley, who preferred scarlet carnations to any other flower. Surely Mrs. Davis has more important things to do this spring than agitate for a new state flower. Has she taken care of all her hybrid tea roses? Has she raked the leaves out of the shrubbery and loosened the dirt in the bulb beds?

Scanning the Record

By George E. Sokolsky

Revealing Light from Dr. Benes' Memoirs.

DR. EDUARD BENES, prisoner-president of enslaved Czechoslovakia, has written his memoirs (Pameti) published in Prague. In this—I quote "The Central European Observer"—he tells of the efforts made in 1939 to get him to leave western Europe and to take refuge in Soviet Russia.

The efforts continued even after the Stalin-Hitler alliance, even after the Russians had marched into Poland and eastern Galicia. He recounts a conversation with a leading Czech Communist:

SOKOLSKY

"My talk with Sverma (Czech Communist) made me realize what a great difference there was between the attitude of our Communists, under the influence of the Russian Communists, towards the further development of the war, and my own attitude towards it. We both believed that, although the Soviet Union had signed an agreement with Germany, it would enter the war. The Communists, however, apparently considered that this would not be possible until the war was nearly over, and it was with this very object in view that the Soviet Union had signed the agreement, so as to gain time for itself. They also seemed to think that it would intervene with a mainly or exclusively revolutionary purpose at the moment when both sides were so exhausted that they would not be strong enough to ward off the social revolution. At this moment, too, they imagined that in any case they would succeed in internally revolutionising Germany also."

View Generally Held

This view was very generally held in 1939 and 1940, namely, that Soviet Russia would ultimately stab Germany in the back, but not until the western powers were so weak that they too would crumble. Then Soviet Russia would be the master of Europe. Ulrich Von Hassell, former German ambassador to Italy, who was killed by Hitler for conspiring to bring about a revolution in Germany during the war and who nearly succeeded, in his "The Von Hassell Diaries," published in this country, confirmed Benes's view. He wrote on August 26, 1939:

"It is clear to me that the Russians made the pact with us in the same spirit in which they dragged out the negotiations with the western powers. That is to encourage us and to set all nations of Europe against one another."

It was during this period that Communists throughout the world showed their enmity to the United States. Even in this country the Communists used the slogan, "the Yanks are not coming," and they picketed the White House and booed President Roosevelt. Benes describes this background:

". . . This, too, was how I explained the constantly increasing vindictive action of our Communists in London and America against us. They soon afterwards began to stress the theory of imperialistic warfare and to assert, as regards the allies and Germany, that it was a case of six of one and half a dozen of the other . . . ."

Peak in 1940

Further he wrote:

". . . . This particular trend of the Communist party reached its peak towards the end of 1940 and the beginning of 1941; this was six months before the Soviet Union came into the war. It is evident that at that time the German attack on the Soviet Union was not yet expected in the Communist ranks. It is also clear that during the first few months of the war the central committee of the Czechoslovak Communist party had accepted the erroneous expectations if the Russian Communists regarding the Soviet maintenance of neutrality for a maximum length of time, perhaps even until the last stages of the war. The same body was also promoted and directed by the assumption that at the very end of this 'imperialistic conflict' the worldwide revolution would be let loose."

As one reads all this, it is impossible not to wonder what documents are filed in the archives of our state department. For what a roving revolutionist inside Germany, Von Hassell, and the refugee president of an occupied country, Benes, could know our state department and our President must have known. Yet, when Stalin was ready to enter the war, the American people were deceived both as to the nature of the Stalin-Hitler alliance and its breach.

We were lied to and we paid for it in lives and wealth. We are still paying.

A Woman Directs the Mint

By Jane Eads

WASHINGTON

MRS. NELLIE TAYLOE ROSS thought home-making was to be her lifelong career, but she's been in public office since the death of her husband in 1924. Now President Truman has nominated her to serve another five-year term as director of the U.S. mint. If congress approves the appointment this will be her fourth term. She was first named to the post in 1933 by President Roosevelt.

Mrs. Ross is a little woman, dainty and feminine. She was married in September 1902, and before the death of her husband her sole claim to distinction was as a model wife and mother and a charming hostess. Her husband was governor of Wyoming. When he died in 1924 she was elected governor to fill out two years of his unexpired term. From that career she bounced into national politics, speaking for the nomination of Alfred E. Smith in 1928 and four years later for Franklin D. Roosevelt's first candidacy.

MRS. ROSS

The public hears little of Mrs. Ross. She has neatly side-stepped publicity yet the U.S. mint, which boasts the largest gold horde in the world, has done a colossal business under her direction. During the 15 years she has been director, the mint has produced more coin than in all the previous years since its organization in George Washington's time.

Her span of service has seen the government's stockpile of gold grow from $2,368,000,000 to well over 23 billions. All of this gold has gone through the melting pot, and a large part has been refined. During the same period the amount of silver has grown from 28,000,000 ounces to 1,688,000,000 ounces. During the war the mint produced coins for foreign nations all over the globe and made medals for all the armed forces of the United States. During the peak year, 1945, the mint made 9,000,000 medals.

With the exception of the Goddess of Liberty, Mrs. Ross is the only woman to have her likeness on a medal or coin produced by the U.S. mint. Presidents, secretaries of the treasury and mint directors automatically get medals struck for them. Mrs. Ross is the first woman to direct the mint. She is the first woman to have her name on the cornerstone of a federal building.

Mrs. Ross said that once she got into the mint job she "worked good and hard, found it fascinating and that's all there is to it." She says she works a good deal of the time on a 24-hour seven-day basis, at top speed. Because of this pressure and the difficulty of getting tenants, she recently sold her century-old 200-acre tobacco plantation in nearby Maryland and a 250-acre stock and grain farm in Virginia.

She lives alone in an old-fashioned nine-room apartment in the capitol. It is filled with antiques she has collected from all parts of the country. She says she would like to spend her next vacation "just staying home."

New Navy Ratings

The navy is simplifying its system of ranking enlisted men, merging 198 ratings into 77 general service rates under 12 general categories.

Under the new system, the ship's cook becomes a commissary man. The carpenter's mate and painter are now damage control men. Buglers will be seamen, signalmen will be quartermasters, and water tenders will become boiler men.

The order, effective April 2, standardizes rate abbreviations, which used to range from BMCB-B/2 (boatswain's mate, construction battalion, boatswain second class) to S/2 (seaman, second class). Abbreviations will be two initials, with the suffix "C" for a chief petty oficer, or numerals designating other petty officers.

Rehabilitative Reparations

A New York court has ruled that a safe-cracker is legally liable for damages to a vault he robbed.

That's a practical approach to crime prevention.

There'd be a lot less arson if the perpetrators knew they would be forced to pay the fire department's overtime.

And bootleggers wouldn't be quite so brazen if they knew they could be held responsible for their customers' ulcer bills.

Why, we may even live to see the day when crime indeed does not pay.

Of course, in the case at hand, the safe-cracker involved doubtless finds some consolation in the thought that at least he can deduct the vault repair cost from his income tax as a professional expense.

Atomic Help

The role of radioactive isotopes in medicine has been outlined in a circular prepared by American Medical Association.

It is reported that certain isotopes have value in diagnosis, questionable value in treatment, but great value in research.

The isotopes can be used to determine whether various elements taken into the body in food finally locate themselves, even to determine where they localize themselves in individual cells.

These radioactive substances are showing how life is maintained and what processes attend the building up of carbon atoms into flesh, bone and blood. They are making it possible to trace disease-causing organisms.

What Goes On in Berlin

By Joseph and Stewart Alsop

WASHINGTON

THE facts behind the Berlin business are simple enough. A Soviet effort to expel the western allies from Berlin was foreseen as long ago as last November, when General Lucius D. Clay told one of these correspondents he "would only leave the city on a stretcher." After the breakdown of the London conference on Germany in December, General Clay's unyielding policy was approved on the highest level, by Secretary of State Marshall. The balloon was rather expected to go up in Berlin at that time. Instead, there was an interval of Soviet hesitation and comparative amiability. And the balloon has gone up now.

The "now" is what matters. The drive for Berlin must be seen in conjunction with the rape of Czechoslovakia, the drive for Finland, the pressure on Scandinavia and the struggle for Italy. Coming at this climactic moment in the grand contest for Europe, the Soviet drive for Berlin holds out some threat of imminent war. That is a fact which is being soberly faced by the American policy makers, and should be soberly faced by the American public.

The reasons given for this horrifying assessment of the situation are essentially simple. The Soviets may be bluffing, but they have committed themselves so deeply that it will be difficult for them to back down. When General Clay remarked that he would not abandon Berlin except if carried out, he was certainly not bluffing. The United States and Britain have no real alternative except to call the Soviet bluff. For if they are weak in the face of Soviet bullying, every other doubtful situation in Europe will turn sour overnight.

The Finns, deprived of hope of succor, would hardly be able to maintain their superb courage. The Scandinavians, seeing the leaders of the west humiliated in Berlin and Finland going over like a ninepin, would also lose heart. And in Italy, the current hopeful political trend would be reversed by the dramatic demonstration of the Soviet power. In short, the present choice is between calling the Soviet bluff, which means a possible risk of shooting now; or yielding to the Soviets, which means probably creating a situation that is certain to lead to war later. For if Italy alone is absorbed in the Soviet sphere, the picture will be comparable to that in 1938, after Munich. Then there will ultimately be no choice except the appeasers' chice, which is between fighting and surrendering.

This danger of political chain reaction, which is inherent in the Berlin situation, should now be familiar. It was first seen in the Greek-Turkish crisis. It has recurred at intervals since. And it arose in a most violent form when Czechoslovakia fell.

The pattern of the present crisis is, in fact, oddly similar to the Czechoslovak crisis pattern which led to the President's emergency message to Congress. Most official and a few non-official observers—among them these correspondents—had foreseen what would happen in Czechoslovakia, just as the Soviet drive for Berlin was also foreseen. Nevertheless, when expectation become reality, a ghastly electric shock went through Europe. Here was naked Soviet aggression.

Question for America

From the Foreign Offices of almost every free European nation, the same inquiries poured into Washington. Was American policy just talk and dollars? Or was the United States genuinely ready to fight for the cause of freedom in the world, if need arose?

If we stand firm at Berlin, we can at least be encouraged in doing so by the analysis of Russia's motives for her present aggressions which is generally accepted by the American policy makers.

They believe that the violence of the Soviet response to the European Recovery Program flows from the knowledge of the Soviet leaders that their system is too weak to stand the competition of a healthy, reconstructed Europe. They believe, that is, that the Soviet motive is preventive, the intention being to create conditions in which the healthy reconstruction of Europe will be impossible. That this is now the danger is acknowledged.

Caught 2 Street Cars

By The Associated Press

HARRISBURG, Pa.—Mr. and Mrs. Earl Lebo and their three children don't worry about catching street cars—they live in them.

When the Lebos found living in a trailer cramped their style they bought two street car for $200 each from a line that had abandoned its service.

It cost an additional $108 to have the cars trucked to a lot on the outskirts of Harrisburg. There the cars were placed on foundations and the Lebos set up housekeeping.

Lebo, a former war worker, converted one car into a residence, installing a kerosene stove for cooking and a coal stove for heating. The second car is used for storage but the Lebos plan to remodel both cars into a single home.

ARABS ARMED FOR PALESTINE FIGHTS — An Arab soldier of the liberation forces has his rifle inspected (top) by Sheik Mohammed el Jaabary (right), the Mayor of Hebron and most influential man in the region. At bottom, another Arab fighter prepares to throw a hand grenade. In addition to a rifle, grenades and belts of bullets, he wears a dagger for hand-to-hand encounters. Skirmishes between Arab and Jewish troops since the United Nations voted for partition have raised the Holy Land death toll to 2,206.

Love's Perilous Path

By ADELE GARRISON

GEORGES' voice ran out into pitiful silence as he finished his explanation of his sending letters to Mary at the santarium while she was ill, and of his preposterous theory that her illness had been caused because of her conflict between her love for him, and her duty to her husband.

I commented mentally that I did not think even Dicky would object to my use of the adjective "pitiful." His mobile face also reflected compassion as he looked at the broken man in the chair across from him, although I knew that his pity was infused with a humorous contempt which was absent from mine, and which, I comfortingly assured myself, was purely masculine.

"You say you do not know what to do." Dicky repeated. "Why, you poor sap, if what you have told me is only half the truth, you are sitting on top of the world, swinging your feet off into fleecy clouds.

"Just let me 'count your blessings' for you," he went on, leaning forward, with his right forefinger ready for expressive punctuating jabs into his right palm.

"First, you say you love the princess Olina, and that your dearest wish is to marry her. Since your return, there has been no obstacle to that except this cock-eyed notion of yours. Now, there is no obstacle."

Georges' chin lifted from his chest, and his voice was a bit stronger as he put a hasty faltering question.

"You mean Olina never will know of this," he asked. "Or-of those letters to the sanitarium?"

"Not unless you're anointed ass enough to tell her sometime when your ego begins to ingrow again," Dicky retorted mercilessly. "And that brings me to my second point.

"Mary doesn't know of this last brain wave of yours, of course," he went on, "and there's no need for her ever to know it." — I smiled to myself at that one—"so you'll be spared that embarrassment. And, if you react to all this as I think you're going to do, I'm sure my wife can go back to our niece, and persuade her to burn the letters, and to say nothing more about them to Noel, the only person she meant to tell about them. You can't imagine her telling Olina a thing like that! She has too much sporting blood in her.

"Why, don't you know that Mary is so pepped up about your coming marriage to Olina"—I noted with satisfaction that, for the first time in the interview, he had used our niece's Christian name which he had forbidden Georges to speak—"she has accepted Olina's urgent invitation to be her matron of honor. Olina naturally wished her step-brother, Noel, to be your best man, but she, of course, would not mention that to him until after she had seen you."

"I should hope not," Georges said explosively, and I saw with relieved amusement, not only that his volatile spirits were rising from the abyss into which Dicky's ruthless going-over had thrust them, but that his old jealousy of Noel because of his long ago betrothal to Olina was lifting its head again.

Was there any limit to the inconsistency of a man? I smiled at myself as I put the old question, added the inevitable corollary, or that of a woman, and answered both with a negative.

"I do not see," the fugitive king went on, "how I could bear—"

He did not finish his question, and Dicky spoke quickly.

"It isn't necessary for you to decide anything tonight, except the question of permitting your wedding to Olina to go along as scheduled. And, even on that, you ought not to make a split decision. Now, I'm violating the Chief's orders, but I'm going to delay our journey back for a little while long to give you a chance to pull yourself together, and make a clear and sane decision.

"Now I'm going to take you to a guest room with a bath where you can pull yourself together—I'd advise a cold shower. And, incidentally, Lad, I'm sorry for some of the things I said to you. I didn't understand, and I'll give you the chance to knock me down for them some time when you're in better shape."

WISCONSIN

Arthur men had 13,622 and 13,144.

In the Sixth district, bordering on Lake Michigan, MacArthur's men forged ahead. With 173 of the 215 precincts reported, the low man of MacArthur's two had 14,326 votes, the high man of Stassen's pair 13,205.

Tight Race in Seventh

The Seventh district, in the center of the state, developed a horse race. With 264 of the 375 precincts reported, a MacArthur man topped the list with 7,501 and a Stassen man was second with 7,374.

MacArthur's two backers topped the incomplete count in the Eighth district, the playground area in northern Wisconsin. There the count from 214 of the 286 precincts gave the general's backers 11,328 and 11,150 votes. Stassen men had 10,741 and 9,797.

Stassen won two delegates in the Ninth district, bordering his native Minnesota. There 291 of 376 precincts gave his men 13,868 and 13,706 votes. Dewey's pair of candidates were second with 6,182 and 6,057.

In the Tenth district of northwestern Wisconsin, Stassen apparently won two more. His pair's totals from 328 of the 403 precincts were 9,697 and 9,357. MacArthur's candidates counted 6,897 and 6,696.

By the nature of his Wisconsin showing, Stassen climbed up among the GOP presidential leaders again after having been almost belted into the vice presidential class by Dewey's six to two delegate victory over him in New Hampshire last month.

The Stassen surge gave added color to his claims of having won majorities of the Iowa and Maine Republican delegates in recent convention in those two states.

New Battle Coming

But Stassen faces a new, and perhaps more vigorous, test in next Tuesday's Nebraska primary. There he and six other GOP hopefuls—including Dewey and MacArthur—will bid for popular support.

He will face Senator Robert A. Taft of Ohio in that contest for the first time. Taft winds up an in-person campaign there today.

Dewey flies to Nebraska today to start a two-day tour tomorrow. Stassen goes there tomorrow.

Dewey was badly hurt by the Wisconsin results — especially because of his last minute decision to campaign here personally.

MacArthur needed a majority in the state where he keeps his legal residence to make himself the sort of darkhorse threat who would be appealing elsewhere.

Dewey has a chance to recoup with a Nebraska victory. He has said he is playing out the string of primaries ending with the May 21 Oregon vote. He and Stassen are butting heads in that one.

Most politicians thought that Dewey lost out because a great many Wisconsin Republican voters had decided the New York governor had his chance in 1944 and somebody new ought to be tried.

His defeat was likened to that of the late Wendell L. Willkie in 1944. Willkie quit the race after Dewey walked off with most of Wisconsin's delegates that year.

The fact that Dewey got the support of 96 New York delegates yesterday, however, kept him distinctly out of the Willkie class. Willkie had no such backlog to depend upon, nor did he have claimed delegates elsewhere in any numbers.

MacArthur was silent in Tokyo about the Wisconsin results.

Wisconsin Democrats elected a 24-vote slate of delegates to their national convention. All are expected to support President Truman. The Democratic vote was extremely light.

16 UNIONS IN WAGE, HOUR RAIL DEMAND

By International News Service

ST. LOUIS, April 7—Non-operating railway employes represented by 16 unions served notice today they will seek a basic 40 hour week and a wage increase of 25 cents an hour.

The unions represent approximately a million employes engaged in all types of service other than train operations. About three-fourths of all railway employes are involved in the new wage demands.

Notices are being served April 16 by local representatives of the organizations on the managements of all railroads throughout the country.

The St. Louis office of the Order of Railroad Telegraphers, one of the 16 unions involved, announced the non-operating employe demands.

The unions asked that wages be increased as of May 10. This would be in addition to converting operations to a 40-hour straight time work week without reductions in weekly straight-time pay which is now generally based on 48 hours in the railroad industry.

DEFENDANT'S WAYS IN CAR SALES AIRED

By The Associated Press

CLEVELAND, April 7 — The state called a court stenographer to read the defendant's own statements today in the larceny trial of John W. (Jack) Singleton, former dealer in nearly new automobiles.

Herman I. Toll, stenographer for bankruptcy hearings conducted on Singleton's business, was to read his description of how the business started and ended.

County Prosecutor Frank T. Cullitan declared in his opening statement yesterday the defendant "from the very outset" operated a used car lot "to obtain money from his victims."

Singleton is accused of taking payments from prospective purchasers and failing to deliver their automobiles.

"Those who got cars were the lucky ones," said Cullitan. "They were used as bait. For the purpose of getting suckers in, he sold to the lures for hundreds of dollars less than he had to pay in Detroit."

The former dealer's debts now stand at nearly a million dollars, the prosecutor asserted.

Nine-Year-Old Columbus Boy Tells of Ride in Freight Car

All sorts of calls liven up the work of the sheriff's department. Not all are on the serious side with some even good for a laugh and a human interest story to boot. An example of such was reported today by Sheriff LeRoy Retterer and involves a nine-year-old colored boy who took an unwanted ride in a freight car from Columbus to Marion.

The story began to unfold about 4:30 p. m. Sunday when deputy sheriff Edgar Fink received a call from the C. O. Tennant home on the Hillman-Ford road northwest of Marion.

Mr. Tennant reported a well-behaved little colored boy had just stopped at his home seeking something to eat. When Deputy George Conroy arrived to pick him up, the lad had been fed and related the following story of his misadventure.

He said he was from Columbus and had gone to a movie Saturday night. After leaving the show two big boys picked on him eventually taking him to the railroad yards and locking him in a box car.

The train took off before he could get out and he spent the night in the car. He said there was a horse in it. He finally got loose when the train stopped in the Marion yards. His escape was made when the animal kicked a board loose in the side of the freight car.

After getting out of the car he walked about a half mile to the Tennant home and being hungry asked for something to eat.

A check with Columbus police revealed that the boy's parents had reported him missing as of about 11 p. m. Saturday. Parents were notified by police and came to Marion to retrieve the lad, arriving here about midnight.

Meanwhile the youngster took cat naps in a chair at the county jail office, unperturbed at being a long way from home and apparently in no hurry to get back. He reported to Sheriff Retterer that he did not have to go to school Monday and it would be all right with him if the sheriff took him to the show Sunday night.

Forms at Olney

The parade formed at Olney and Blaine avenues and Garden street, moved east on Center to State, south on State to Church and west on Orchard street.

The usual let-down after a parade did not occur last night for the Fostoria V.F.W. band followed the parade with a concert on the courthouse lawn while an Air Forces attack bomber made sweeping passes over the downtown area in the light of the giant aerial spotlight mounted in front of the courthouse.

The parade was organized and directed by a military civilian advisory committee composed of chairman, Capt. John H. Mills, consultant, Col. R. E. Copeland, and Lt. Col Fred Merchant, Master Sergeant Robert G. Burton, Lt. David Pollak, Sgt. Mitchell Rech, U.S.M.C.R., Sgt. John Powell, Robert Solinger, Owen Medles, Harold Greenfield, Thomas Rayburn, Craig Rogers, R. C. Dunlap, James Cusic, Karl Beeftle and Dave Robbins.

During the afternoon preceding the parade, the Marion Baggage Depot was host to some 30 cars carrying 125 visitors who were taken on a conducted tour of the installations.

DRAFT WOULD TAKE BUT FEW FATHERS

By International News Service

COLUMBUS, April 7 — Ohio's fathers were left today with an assurance from Maj. Gen. Lewis B. Hershey that they probably would be skipped by any forthcoming draft law.

The wartime director of selective service told several Army day press conferences in Columbus that more than half the former draft board workers still were available and nationwide draft machinery could be set up within 90 days after congress acted. He said:

"Few fathers would be taken. . . . We went pretty easy on fathers during the war and I imagine few, if any, will be taken under this peacetime measure."

Hershey said the best course for the U. S. was to get our latent power ready so that nations planning to attack us will feel that they will be defeated, or will consider if they win the victory, it wouldn't be worth it."

TRUCKERS SIT-DOWN ON TURNPIKE ENDS

By The Associated Press

CARLISLE, Pa., April 7—Heavy freight trucks lumbered along the Pennsylvania turnpike today as a mass "sitdown" protest of drivers ended as spontaneously as it started.

Only a few scattered stragglers remained of the hundreds of cargo carriers which were parked along the eastern terminus of the modern toll road for almost 48 hours.

Scores of the trucks roared into life and lumbered off during the night. Special police were assigned at strategic points near the turnpike entrance to aid traffic flow.

John Nichols, of Liverpool, Pa., one of the truckers, said after a meeting last night that a delegation would visit Harrisburg today in a last effort to achieve relief from present weight restrictions.

Pennsylvania law limits gross weight of trucks to 45,000 pounds. The truckers objected that they were "unable to earn a living" under the limitations.

The line of trucks, estimated by police to number over 1,000 at one time, started to dissolve yesterday after police began weighing the trucks with portable scales. A few truckers whose vehicles exceeded the weight limit went to jail when they were unable to pay fines.

Trucking companies announced they had no part in the "sitdown" demonstration. A majority of the drivers involved were independent owners, operating their own vehicles.

F.P.C. OUT TO SOLVE FUEL GAS PROBLEM

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, April 7—The federal power commission set out today to see what can be done about meeting part of the middle west's natural gas needs next winter.

A many-sided hearing was started against the background of present restrictions on the use of gas for home heating and the industrial shutdown of the past winter because of gas shortages.

Altogether, 53 companies were named in the commission's order calling the hearing but basically the investigation boils down to finding out the capacity of, and the demands on the Panhandle Eastern Pipeline Co., and the best use that can be made of its lines.

Panhandle sells natural gas directly to industries and others for their own use and to distributing companies for resale in Texas, Oklahoma, Kansas, Missouri, Illinois, Indiana, Ohio and Michigan.

The commission said that Panhandle may be able to deliver about 405 million cubic feet of gas a day during the coming summer and that its capacity may be increased from time to time as additional facilities are completed.

Also to be reviewed is a Panhandle proposal to increase its gas deliveries to the East Ohio Gas Co., from 50 million cubic feet a day to 75 million. Supplies for the Ohio Fuel Co., likewise will be considered.

CORN GAIN FORECAST

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., April 7—Ohio farmers expect to increase their 1948 corn acreage seven per cent. Ohio State university farm experts said yesterday. The national picture is for less corn acreage, the experts said, although the use of hybrid seed corn may boost the national crop 20 per cent over last year.

Plain Words

By James Marlow

WASHINGTON

G. HOFFMAN, who makes mobiles run, now will make Europe run.

Job. Before it's over, and no fault of his, it may rub in his face. The road is full of tacks.

Pres. Truman has named Mr. of the European recovery program (ERP). The senate is sure to okay him. He washers

James Marlow

Hoffman work. He's been a man for and now president of Studebaker corporation. He can, since

ERP job is the biggest and most unusual in American history. Simply, it's Pump ERP help—money and food—into 16 European nations to get them on their feet. It's a major blood-transfu-

2. By doing this—by stopping collapse—to keep Communism from spreading and taking them over.

Will ERP work? Hoffman thinks it's a gamble. But he said "to my mind it's a good gamble."

ERP is supposed to last four years. Will Hoffman last that long in ERP? The real question is: will ERP last that long?

This country, with feeling here toward Russia getting tense, is going to build up its armed forces.

IF RUSSIA CALLS our hand and starts pushing hard to take over Europe, and does it, goodbye ERP.

Or if, in spite of ERP, Communists within a country take it over, it's goodbye ERP in that country.

So in spite of anything he does, ERP still can blow up in Hoffman's face.

Everything he does will be watched by Europe, this country and congress. So he stands a good chance of tough criticism.

One of his first tasks will be to build up a staff, starting from scratch, of maybe 1,000 people here, another 1,000 in Europe.

The men he picks—and will have to rely on—can make or break the program.

He'll have to examine with utmost care the requests of the 16 nations for help. He'll have vast powers over what's shipped abroad.

And he must decide what countries get ERP help as a gift, because they never will be able to pay back, and what ones get it only as a loan.

HE'LL WORK WITH the state department and other government agencies but the spotlight will be on him.

Hoffman is no stranger to ERP. Last fall he was a member of the President's committee on foreign aid.

This was a committee of 19 citizens, headed by Secretary of Commerce Harriman. It made a study of what help we could give Europe. It said we could give a lot.

And Hoffman testified before congressional committees that we should try to give this kind of help to Europe.

During the war Hoffman headed a group of businessmen from various industries who created what they called for Committee for Economic Development (CED).

This CED worked several years during the war planning for full-employment after the war. The CED still is active. Hoffman is chairman of its trustees.

Hoffman was born in Chicago in 1891 and quit college to work for the Studebaker outfit as a salesman.

When the Studebaker Corporation went into receivership in 1933, Hoffman was named receiver.

In two years he got the company out of its hole. The receivership was lifted and Hoffman was named president of the corporation.

Hoffman has no illusions about the future. Before he got this ERP job he knew there was a risk it might fail.

He told congress the "destructive forces in Europe are strong." But he said there was a greater risk in a do-nothing policy.

UNUSUAL CRASH. Earl Johnson surveys damage done when his 10-ton gravel truck somersaulted a street embankment in Topanga Canyon, near Los Angeles, Calif., and landed on top of sedan. Two teen-age boys were in the auto when the smashup occurred but neither was injured seriously.

Nine Presented Letters At Harding Basketball Dinner

At a basketball banquet at Harding High school last night 55 persons were present to see four seniors, two juniors and one sophomore receive letter awards. Those receiving the "H" were Jim Coss, Jim Rea, Dick Riddle and Dick Gherman, seniors; Dick Thomas and Dick Clark, juniors; and Merle Daum, sophomore. Bill Virden and Bill Steele each received manager letters.

Paul Hoernaman, basketball and football coach at Heidelberg college, main speaker for the affair, reviewed the evolution of basketball from the date of its origin in 1891 by Dr. James Nainsmith of Springfield college, Mass., when peach baskets were used for hoops, to the present day of steel rims and nets.

"Basketball is big business," he said. "More people participate in and more people watch basketball than any other sport."

In listing the unsolved problems of basketball, Mr. Hoernaman poinfed out the problem of tall men versus shorter men, the radical differences of officiating in different sections of the country, and the lack of standardized equipment, such as size and shape of basketball courts and bankboards. He encouraged the athletes to be as attentive to their studies as to sports in his parting remark.

L. L. Dickey, superintendent of city schools, who substituted for Ted Turney, athletic director of Heidelberg, in defining the difficulties of training put his point across in one statement: "early to bed and early to rise—and your girl goes out with the other guys." In another statement pertinent to Marion sports facilities he said, "Patrons are turned away from basketball games at Madison Square Garden, but here in Marion they can't get close enough to get turned away."

James Smith, mathematics teacher, served as toastmaster at the function.

Kenny Somerlot, head basketball coach, awarded the letters and commended the boys on their fine attitude and gentlemanly conduct while representing Harding High school on the basketball court. Head football and reserve basketball coach Pete Howison also commended the cage team.

Klingel Reelected Governor of Moose

Ralph Klingel was returned to office for a second term as governor of the Marion Moose lodge Tuesday night when annual election of officers was held at the Moose hall.

Others named to office were John Moore as junior governor, George Reimlinger, prelate and Carroll W. Davidson treasurer. Stanley Thompson was renamed trustee for a three year term.

Installation of officers will be conducted May 3 with Past Governor Donald Phelps as installing officer.

Prospects for a strong Moose softball team this year were reported by athletic committee chairman Reimlinger who announced initial practice would be held April 8 at the armory and that squad uniforms had been ordered.

Membership chairman Fred Reed gave details on the drive plans to be adopted by the lodge to gain its quota of new memberships this year. Applications for membership of ten candidates were accepted. Next class initiation was announced for April 14 with degree work to be in charge of a team from the Delaware lodge.

Announcement was made of a district meeting of the Moose Legion scheduled for Sunday at Bucyrus. Wallace Konkle headed the committee for lunch concluding the meeting.

SEES BLANKET TRUMAN LOSS

Alf Landon Predicts President Won't Carry Single Northern State.

By International News Service

NEW YORK, April 7—Alf M. Landon, Republican nominee for president in 1936, declared in an interview here that Harry S. Truman "is not going to carry a state north of the Mason and Dixon line" in 1948.

The former governor of Kansas added that Truman may lose a number of states south of the Mason and Dixon line.

Mr. Landon declined to say who he thought is the "No 1" Republican presidential possibility, as of today.

"Everything depends on changing world conditions in the next 60 days," he explained. "But I will say this:

"Whoever the Republicans nominate will be our next president."

Mr. Landon said there was no doubt in his mind that President Truman will run for re-election.

Thinks Wallace Strong

"If the Democrats do not nominate Truman they would be repudiating themselves -- and they can't win that way," he asserted.

In Mr. Landon's opinion, Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower has taken himself out of the presidential race.

Henry Wallace, according to Mr. Landon, will poll "a whale of AA vote" and cut into the strength of the Democratic party.

"The Democrats see defeat ahead," said Mr. Landon. "The Democrats in various states will forget all about President Truman and work to save their local and state tickets."

Mr. Landon said that any attempt to predict who will be the Republican presidential nominee would be "only a big guess."

The fate of Gen. Douglas MacArthur depends to a good deal on the outcome of today's primary election in Wisconsin, Mr. Landon said.

Cites Favorite Sons

"There is a lot of sentiment in the country for Gen MacArthur," said Mr. Landon. "I was talking to a Kansas farm woman just after the Czechoslovakia coup, and she remarked: 'MacArthur wouldn't stand for any of that kind of monkey business'."

The Republicans have a large number of first rate presidential candidates, Mr. Landon said. He listed eight big states thus:

New York—Thomas E. Dewey.
Pennsylvania — Sen. Edward Martin.
Illinois—Gov. Dwight Green.
California—Gov. Earl Warren.
Ohio—Sen. Robert A. Taft.
Massachusetts—Sen. Leverett Saltonstall.
Michigan—Sen. Arthur Vandenberg.
Minnesota—Harold Stassen.

"All these men are more than favorite sons," said Mr. Landon. "They would surely pick up delegates in many other states."

Taft Leading Poll In Indiana District

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, April 7—Sen. Robert A. Taft (R) of Ohio leads a presidential poll being conducted by Rep. Gillie (R) of Indiana in the Hoosier's district.

The first 600 ballots returned gave Taft 205 votes, or only one short of a 2-to-1 margin over Governor Thomas Dewey, Gillie said. Sen. John W. Bricker (R) of Ohio was seventh with 28, four more than President Truman.

Newspapers in Gillie's district are cooperating in the poll. Voters were asked to name their choice for president. No candidates were listed.

Family Opposes Name Of FDR in Politics

By The Associated Press

PORTLAND, Ore., April 7—Members of the Roosevelt family today were opposed to use of the late president's name by a group of Oregon Democrats.

Letters from Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt, her son James of Los Angeles, and Mrs. Anna Roosevelt Boettiger, Phoenix, Ariz., were published by The Oregonian. They deplored use of the Roosevelt name by a committee which has slated candidates in the May 21 Democratic primary.

The Portland chapter, Americans for Democratic Action, released Mrs. Roosevelt's letter. The ADA said it was aimed at the Roosevelt Democrats committee. The ADA said some of the committee's candidates are members of the Progressive Citizens of America, a pro-Wallace group.

Cargo Balks Workers, Refuse To Load Ship

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, April 7—ALF longshoremen, asserting that "we don't want any cargo shot back at us," refused yesterday to load the Soviet liner Rossia.

The ship was scheduled to sail today for Odessa.

The 105 balking workers said they were told the vessel was to take on gas, oil and vehicular equipment at its Bronklyn pier and then go to Jersey City, N. J., for a consignment of heavy machinery.

But a spokesman for the Moore-McCormack line, agents for the Soviet trading concern which operates the liner, declared he understood the ship was to carry only passengers, baggage and mail.

BUCYRUS BATTERY DRILLS

BUCYRUS—Bucyrus' only recognition of Army day was the regular drill by Battery B of the 174th field artillery of the local natonal guard unit, which was open to the public. Public inspection of the armory was also held. Capt. Lorn Smith is in command of the local unit.

HINT U.S. TEST OF ATOM ARMS

American Scientist and Military Team Now Working on Guarded Atoll.

By The Associated Press

HONOLULU, April 7—A top level American scientist-military team is evidently conducting a secret series of major atomic weapons tests at isolated, guarded Eniwetok atoll.

The first of these tests, to chart wartime uses of atomic fission, probably already has been conducted.

The tests are not the grandstand show of the 1946 Bikini experiments. Then hundreds of newspapermen, scientists, military observers and diplomats from many countries watched and told the world what they saw.

At the current tests, the only witnesses are a few experts from one country—the United States. The experiments are military in purpose, to show how the U.S. armed forces may use atomic energy in war. The U.S. Atomic Energy commission has warned everyone but a few well-screened experts to keep away.

There is no indication here that anyone is expected to return soon from Eniwetok. This supports the belief that a series of several tests is under way.

It seems evident to careful observers that at least two types of tests were planned. The first, presumably, would be the use of atomic warheads on guided missiles, on short range flights; the second, atomic bombs dropped from the air.

Rear Adm. William S. Parsons, a deputy commander in the operation, was quoted in a newspaper interview here as saying that instruments instead of guinea pig ships would be used to record the results.

Some of the best engineers available are at Eniwetok. The island commander is Brig. Gen. David [illegible] Ogden, one of the Army's crack engineers.

CHAPLAIN SHOT

By The Associated Press

TOKYO, April 7—Army investigators reported today Capt. John Ryan of Albany, N. Y., Catholic chaplain of Sugamo prison, was shot to death Monday night—not stabbed, as announced earlier. They said a small caliber bullet fired at close range entered the chaplain's left lung. There have been no indications as to his assailant or a motive.

USE YOUR FREEZER ALL YEAR ROUND

Cooked or out-of-season foods are there when you need them

By Elizabeth Sweeney
(From McCall's Magazine)

Have you learned the trick of putting cooked or out-of-season food into your freezer, so that you can have it ready some what may?

Because the freezer is now for most of us, we've had to learn new habits to take advantage of all the ways in which it can serve, any day in the year. You can have the family's favorites at any time—just make a double batch and put half into the freezer. A great saving if you buy when prices are right. At serve time—you can make plans and relax when you're not busy doing other things and get them ready. And you can always have something good in the freezer to use when unexpected guests pop in.

Your freezer is more than a storage unit. Frozen cooked foods aren't meant to be kept forever; properly, six, nine, a number of months, then a week or two until they're eaten. Frozen uncooked foods usually can be kept longer, but cooked and uncooked foods are quite different in their keeping qualities, as you will see.

How Cleanly To

Not every pie or cake or dessert will freeze well. Custard pies, for instance, tend to separate, and the custard becomes watery. Cream pies and cream fillings are likely to curdle. Pies with meringue tops don't keep well. Cakes with rich fillings and icings do not freeze well. Cakes without fillings or icings, or with simple ones, do freeze well.

How Many Pie

Most every pie can be frozen, but cooked apple pie seems to be the favorite. A refrigerator full of unbaked apple pie shells is a convenience to any housewife. Pumpkin pie, mince pie, custard pie, cream pie, chiffon pie, all freeze well. Fruit pies, of course, are best when fresh, but frozen fruit pies are very good. Frozen pies are best baked without thawing. Put them in a hot oven, 450 degrees, and bake about 15 minutes longer than usual.

How Cakes Fa

Cakes with rich fillings and icings do not freeze well. Cakes without fillings or icings, or with simple ones, do freeze well. Angel food cakes, sponge cakes, and chiffon cakes are not good candidates for the freezer. Fruit cakes, gingerbread, and spice cakes are good. Cakes with nuts in the batter freeze well. Cakes with fillings and icings do not freeze well.

Ready-to-cook pies or cakes are likewise on a busy day frozen, as a protection against dehydration. Freeze on paper pie plate if pie pans are scarce. Here's how:

Wrap unbaked pie in heavy cellophane. Druggists wrap. Fold edges over and over until fold is flat against pie. Tuck ends under, fin in shape.

To Serve: Before baking, set ready to freeze pie over. Bake without oil at 450° allow 10 to 15 minutes. Finish baking time: 45 to 50 minutes.

Fill Some

Enjoy the delicious pie your friend. Add cream and the can be frozen if properly prepared and wrapped. Fill them ready for cooking promptly. Freeze fish the day it's caught, if possible. If not, store it on ice, chilled. Wrap fish tightly and store in freezer to avoid odor. Prepare game as you would poultry. Here's how:

Cut dressed and cleaned birds into pieces to fit freezer. Dip in salty water. Then wrap wrap tightly in cellophane, tin in stockinette.

To Serve: Remove from freezer, allow to thaw in wrapping overnight, and fin in wrappings. Then cook as you would any unfrozen bird.

Roast Beef

Larger roasts usually are the juicy favorites—even last until a second freezer. A small family can enjoy them, too. Buy the leanest cuts in the freezer to be brought out days or a month later, whenever you want it again. You can reheat it so that it retains its original succulence and even degree of doneness. Here's how:

Wrap cooked cooled roast in heavy aluminum foil. Shape foil close to meat to avoid air pockets. Fold underneath. Foil clings to meat, sealing adequately.

To Serve: Place frozen meat, still wrapped, in [illegible] oven. Allow 25 minutes per pound. To test, insert fork in meat. If it comes out [illegible]

Harding Orchestra Will Give Spring Concert Tomorrow

The annual spring concert by the Harding High school orchestra of 48 pieces, directed by Homer Huffman, instructor of instrumental music in the city schools, will be given Thursday night at the Palace theater.

Guest artists will be the Miami University String Quartet from Miami university at Oxford, O. Members of the quartet are Miss Elizabeth Walker, first violin, Lloyd Outland, second violin, Mrs. Anita Marcus, viola, and Miss Elizabeth Potteiger, cello. All are members of the faculty of the music department of Miami university.

Doors Open at 7

The concert is scheduled to begin at 8 o'clock and doors of the theater will open at 7. Single admission tickets for the concert will be available at the door of the theater Thursday night.

For its portion of the program, the string quartet will play a group of five selections including "Old French Gavotte," an arrangement by Ponchon, "Andante Cantabile" by Tschaikowsky, "Canonetta" by Mendelssohn, "Drink to Me Only with Thine Eyes" and "Irish Reel," both arrangements by Ponchon.

The string quartet was established in 1946 by the Miami university school of fine arts for the purposes of providing a source of fine chamber music for Miami university students and faculty, and stimulating interest in the study of string music on the part of students in grade and high schools in Ohio.

Toured with U.S.O.

Miss Walker, first violinist, is a graduate of the University of Oregon. During the war she toured widely for the U.S.O., after which she went to the New England Conservatory of Music in Boston as a graduate student and as a teacher. She went to Miami U. directly from that institution. The second violinist, Mr. Outland, in addition to his teaching activities at the university and membership in the quartet, is director of the university orchestra.

Although a native of England, Mrs. Marcus, the violist, spent most of her life on the European continent in Germany, France and Belgium. She left Europe for the U. S. in 1939 and since coming to this country has spent most of her time in Cincinnati where she founded the Cincinnati Women's String Quartet and became a member of the Cincinnati symphony orchestra. Miss Potteiger, cellist, went to Miami as a member of the music department faculty in 1942 and is one of the original members of the string quartet.

Orchestra Program

The Harding orchestra will open its first part of the program with the "Overture in D" from the light opera "Cephale et Procris" by Gretry, after which "Minuet" from the "E Flat Symphony" by Mozart, will be given. The orchestra will then play "The Dance of the Hours" from "La Gioconda" by Ponchielli, "Prelude" to "L'Arlesienne Suite No. 1" (The Woman of Arles) by Bizet, "Ballet Egyptien" by Luigini, and "Processional" from "The Queen of Sheba," an opera by Gounod.

An arrangement of the well-known Civil War song of the North, "Battle Hymn of the Republic," the words of which were written by Julia Ward Howe in 1861, will be the first selection on the second part of the program. The arrangement is by Peter Wilhousky, who is at present assistant director of music education in New York City.

Completing the program will be "In a Persian Market," (Intermezzo-Scene) by Ketelbey, an American sketch, "Down South" by Myddleton, the music of which describes a typical plantation scene, "Play Gypsies, Dance Gypsies," Kalman, by the string members of the orchestra, an arrangement of "Victor Herbert Favorites" by Herbert-Sanford, a march, "Gladiator," Sousa, and the National Anthem.

The orchestra concert is sponsored annually by the Band and Orchestra Parents Association.

ORDERS MINERS BACK. Federal Judge Matthew F. McGuire above) signed temporary restraining order Saturday in his Washington apartment directing John L. ENTERTAINS BOOSTER CLASS

Miss Martha Ekey entertained the Booster class of Wesley Methodist church Monday night at her home on Girard avenue. Eugene Pletcher, president, presided. During the social hour, contest honors were won by Ronald Strawser, Miss Emma Bishop, Miss Jean Latimore and Eugene Pletcher. The hostess was assisted in serving refreshments by her mother, Mrs. Mary Mathis. Jim Schaffner was a guest.

The average American used nearly 250 pounds of paper in 1945.

MAKE CHANGES IN RENT LAW

Area Director Points Out New Regulations Effective April 1.

Several changes in the rent control law went into effect April 1 when rent controls were continued by act of Congress through March 31, 1949, Edward F. Wagner, area rent director pointed out today.

Although no automatic change was made in rent ceilings affecting the greater part of the tenants, three types of exceptions to the controls as of June 30, 1947 are included in the new law, Wagner explained. These are:

Where a landlord and tenant had voluntarily entered into a written lease increasing the rent up to 15 per cent.

Where the local rent office had issued an individual adjustment order changing the rent, or

Where the housing expediter had approved a general increase in the rent level in a rent area or portion of an area in response to a recommendation of a local rent advisory board.

Lease Provides

The new law gives landlords the right to enter onto new lease agreements with tenants at a maximum rent which is no more than 15 per cent above what the ceiling would have been in the absence of a lease on March 30, 1948.

Housing accommodations for which a lease to increase rents was terminated between Jan. 1 and March 30, 1948, are no longer subject to rent controls.

The law provides that the housing expediter shall make adjustments in maximum rents as may be necessary to remove hardships or to correct inequities. His authority includes all classes of housing accommodations in defense rental areas.

Enforcement Power

Enforcement power is broadened under the new law to give the housing expediter authority to seek injunctions against violations of any provision of the rent law.

Under a new provision of the 1948 law, no tenant need surrender a housing accommodation prior to 60 days after he has received written eviction notice from the landlord, providing he is not violating provisions of tenancy.

The 30-day veterans' preference to rent or purchase newly constructed housing accommodations is continued to April 1, 1949. The law requires all such construction be offered for sale or rent exclusively to veterans or their families during construction and for a 30-day period thereafter.

Also, authority of the housing expediter to require a permit for construction for amusement or recreational purposes is repealed.

Republicans Plan Potluck Supper

Final plans were made for a county-wide Republican potluck supper to be held April 15 in the Republican headquarters at a meeting of the Marion County Republican club Monday night. The supper will be served at 6 p. m. and a program will follow.

Fifteen local candidates were introduced and gave talks, and Fred Miller, membership chairman, reported a large increase in membership. Mr. Miller presided for the meeting in the absence of James Sloan, president. An announcement was made of the women's spring meeting to be held April 12-13 in Toledo at which Senator Taft and other candidates and their wives will be present.

The Egyptians of the 15th Century B.C. served ham and eggs.

The British coal industry was nationalized Jan. 1, 1947.

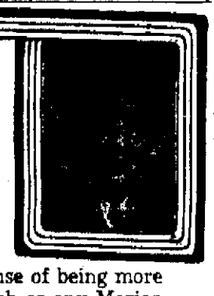
Just Homelike Charm Is the Keynote . . . .



A great many Marion families have preferred to hold services in our Funerol Home. One reason is that it makes no pretense of being more than a home of quiet charm, such as any Marion family might occupy.
Of course, it actually is more than that. There are all of the service facilities required for our work. There also is air conditioning for year around use, and the Everett organ. However, none of these mar or intrude upon that quiet atmosphere of a home.
Our Funeral Home is a part of our service, available to every family we serve without extra or added cost of any kind.

Boudreau Undecided on Outfield; Seven Candidates Look Equally Good

By The Associated Press

TUCSON, Ariz., April 7—The Cleveland Indians broke camp today and manager Lou Boudreau still has no idea who will make up his starting outfield

"The outfield is a problem," Boudreau explains. "It probably won't adjust itself until the season has been well started. Before that time I'll probably do some switching and experimenting."

No outfield position is set. Even Dale Mitchell, the Tribe's leading batter last year, hasn't nailed down a starting job as yet.

Some other major league managers would probably be happy to cope with Boudreau's problem It's a matter of picking a starting trio from seven or eight men of almost equal ability

Did Have Edge

At the start of spring training Mitchell, Hank Edwards and Walt Judnich the ex-St. Louis Brownie, were expected to have an edge Mitchell and Edwards were Tribe starters from last campaign

But as the Indians head eastward, four other prospects are out-hitting the favored trio This same quartet roam far and wide with a nice burst of speed defensively, and come up with few boobles.

Thurman Tucker, late of the Chicago White Sox, has always been rated a fine and speedy defensive player At the moment he is hitting well above the 350 mark in addition to his other abilities

Allie Clark, secured from the New York Yankees in one of the least publicized deals of the winter was expected to add strength to the Tribe He has, both in hitting and fielding

Doby Mighty Fleet

Larry Doby, first Negro player to make the American league, caused raised eyebrows among Tribe camp followers Some believe he may develop into one of the fleetest base runners in the game He is hitting around 315

The rejuvenated Hal Peck is matching hit for hit with Doby

If Pat Seerey can add more base hits to his crop of home runs he can be a great Tribe asset

"These men seem evenly matched," Boudreau says. "If we decide we can be helped by carrying eight outfielders we'll do so and cut down somewhere else."

The infield seems set with Ed Robinson on first, Joe Gordon at second, Boudreau shortstop, and Ken Keltner on third base It was the best defensive aggregation in the American league last year and is playing equally as well this spring Jim Hegan will be first string catcher, Boudreau says

Giants Overpower Indians, 5 to 2

By The Associated Press

PHOENIX, Ariz, April 7 — Using the home run power which gave them an all-time major league record last season, the New York Giants held a one-up lead over the Cleveland Indians today in their spring series.

Bobby Rhawn, a rookie third baseman, provided the long range punch yesterday which broke up an 11-inning battle and gave the Giants a 5-2 win

The only thing the Indians broke was training camp as they were held to eight bingles by an assortment of New York hurlers in the final game before departing for their annual barnstorming trip toward Cleveland Stadium

Bob Feller, looking for revenge against the hard-hitting Giants, returned to his fireballing form as he limited the New Yorkers to six hits and one run in seven innings Feller fanned four in his longest stretch of the Grapefruit season.

The Indians took the lead in the second inning on Joe Gordon's double and Walt Judnich's run-scoring single, and hiked the margin to 2-0 in the third on two-baggers by Dale Mitchell and Eddie Robinson.

The lead was carved to 2-1 on two Giant safeties in the fourth, and New York deadlocked the count in the ninth.

A single and a walk off Steve Gromek set the stage in the 11th for Rhawn's game-busting three-run homer The Giants then snuffed out a Tribe rally, which filled the cases in the bottom half of the frame

The springtime rivals wind up the training season with a two-game set in Cleveland Stadium, April 17 and 18.

MARION'S BIGGEST GRAPPLE CARD

Marion fans Thursday night should see one of the biggest and best cards ever presented at the Armory It will be another double main event attraction with a championship match thrown in for good measure Steve Nenoff who is the proud owner of the American Junior Heavyweight Gold Belt will put his belt on the block in a match against Gene Blakely, the Texan who last Thursday proved too rough and got himself disqualified. The other main event is a return match between two rough boys, Jack Kelley and Len Hughes Last Thursday Kelley really went off the handle and was punching anything that was in front of him, and as a last resort the referee disqualified him, a thing that won't happen Thursday because the referee is instructed to leave them go and no disqualifications. Both bouts are for the best two out of three falls.

ASK 4 CHANGES IN GAME LAWS

3 County Representatives To Take Recommendations to Conservation Parley.

Marion county representatives took four recommendations for changes in the 1948-49 Ohio game laws to Columbus today where the state's fifth conservative district will draw up its proposed changes for presentation at the all state conservation meeting May 20.

Recommendations were approved Tuesday night at a joint meeting of the Marion county Fish and Game association and County Conservation commission held in the Eagles hall with more than 60 sportsmen and farmers attending.

Recommendations include one change in bag limit—that on raccoon—and three changes in hours of hunting and trapping.

They will be presented by Wallace Linn, as farmer representative to the district meeting and by Dick Miller, sportsmans representative, both named by the commission last night to accompany game protector O. H. Neimeyer to Columbus.

Recommended Bag Increase

The daily bag limit on raccoon was recommended to be increased from two to four with no limit on possession. Present limit on possession is two.

The sportsmen also proposed that the hours for hunting pheasant, rabbit and ruffed grouse be extended until 5:30 p. m. Hunters now have to leave the fields at 4 p. m.

It was recommended that trappers be allowed to leave traps set over Sunday. Present regulations require all traps be tripped over Sunday.

Lastly, it was voted to recommend that the conservation department take no action on a proposed closed season on groundhogs from March 1 to Aug. 15. No closed season exists at the present time.

Meeting was called to order by Fish and Game association President Dick Miller. It was voted to hold a fish fry May 11 in lieu of the scheduled meeting May 4 which conflicts with the primary election. Fifty-four entries in the bird house contest were reported by contest chairman Carl Lehner. They are on display at the Y. M. C. A. with juriging to be held April 24.

Neimeyer Reports

Game protector Neimeyer reported briefly on the conservation department's move to secure additional land for game refuge purposes, pointing out that in the interests of wildlife conservation, additional acreage was needed for raising and developing protective cover.

During the meeting the conservation commission reelected John Jolley for another term as president and Rudy Selanders as secretary. Selanders was named as an alternate to the conservation meeting in Columbus as was Vernon Gruber, the former representing the sportsmen and the latter the farmers.

REYNOLDS GIVES JINX PLANE TO HIS PILOT

By DOUGLAS LOVELACE
Associated Press Writer

HONOLULU, April 7—Milton Reynolds today gave his jinxed exploration plane to his pilot, Bill Odom, with no strings attached, and added:

"I'm like a small boy with air rifles. I get into mischief."

The Chicago millionaire thus summed up his recent escapade in China. He fled Shanghai without a passport after a fouled up project to seek the world's highest mountain. Behind he left irate Chinese and American scientists who were to have participated in the aborted aerial expedition.

"I've got a lot of ideas of things to do with planes," remarked Reynolds, as Odom drove him back to the city from the Honolulu airport. "But the worry is pretty tough on my wife."

One of his ideas was a flight around the world — on which Odom piloted Reynolds last year for a record.

Reynolds gave Odom the converted Liberator bomber—which he said cost $125,000—a few minutes before the pilot took off for Chicago, via San Francisco.

"The plane is yours, Bill," said Reynolds. "Any bills you run up after you reach Chicago are also yours."

Reynolds said the expedition set him back $250,000.

Reynolds referred to his hurried flight from China as "something strictly out of Hollywood."

In Peiping Chinese newspapers criticized the frustrated expedition as a "publicity stunt."

The Shih Pao chided scientists and Chinese government officials for embarking on a project with "a foreign merchant" without a guarantee from the U. S. embassy.

Several newspapers said the expedition appeared to be a vehicle for advertising Reynolds and the pens which made his fortune.

New York Stock Quotations

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, April 7—Stock leaders found further progress difficult in today's market and lost price changes were narrow.

Selected rails continued their upswing, although profit-taking in all sections of the list restricted any tendency towards a wide advance.

Bidding continued to be based on anticipated rearmament and European recovery purchases.

Pushing forward at times were Nickel Plate (at a new 1948 high), Canadian Pacific, Illinois Central, Southern Pacific, American Smelting, International Paper (after a favorable earnings showing), Air Reduction, Chrysler, Penney and Consolidated Natural Gas. Backward were Du Pont, Pacific Western Oil, Westinghouse Electric, Radio Corp., Phillip Morris, Commonwealth Edison, Johns Manville, Boeing and Woolworth.

"Double-Headers" No Go with Court

Municipal Judge W. Dexter Hazen is well known for his love of baseball, and like every baseball fan he especially loves a "double-header" game between two good teams.

He is not so fond of "doubleheaders" in court. A northside citizen was arrested by police last night and charged with intoxication. In fact several policemen believe he was "lit up" brighter than the army searchlight in front of the court house. He was released early this morning under a $25 bond pending a hearing of his case in court at 10 a. m.

At the appointed hour the accused arrived in court in condition of even greater intoxication than when he was apprehended last night, and obviously unfit to make an appearance before the court.

Police placed him under arrest for a second time on a charge of intoxication and placed him in what police report as "cold storage" in city jail pending the second half of his "double header" appearance in court, when he will possibly be in better training condition. Judge Hazen will limp when court is called at 10 a. m. tomorrow.

BOUND OVER TO JURY

Jack Ferguson, 20, of near Marion, who was arrested March 31 on a bad check charge filed by Robert Garster, 188½ South Main street, was brought before Judge Hazen this morning where he pleaded guilty to the charge and was bound over to the Marion county grand jury under a bond of $1,500. Ferguson was released on parole from the Mansfield reformatory on Jan. 28, and his case has been under consideration of parole officers since his arrest March 31.

TODAY'S BIRTHDAY

By AP Newsfeatures

IRENE CASTLE, born April 7, 1893, in New Rochelle, N. Y., was the toast of two continents before and during World War I. She and her English actor husband, Vernon, formed a ballroom dancing duo and set the nation to tangoing and one-stepping. Millions of women also copied Irene's bobbed hair — then a startling innovation — and her chic clothes. After Castle's death in a plane crash, his wife remarried and plunged into activities benefitting and protecting animals.
